

CGR launches new Business Operations division targeting Startups and Growth-stage Organizations

June 1, 2016 (Austin, TX) – Command Group, a leader in Management Consulting services to include Professional and Executive Search and Interim Talent solutions announces the expansion of the organization with the addition of its newest offerings within Business Operations. Today, the company has the ability to assist organizations in Business Operations areas of discipline to include: HR, Recruiting, Finance/Accounting, Facilities, Training, IT and Client Success. “We have seen a market need for senior level BPO service offerings over the past year in particular and are positioning ourselves to be the single source for organizations at all lifecycle stages to be able to turn to,” said Stacy Komendera, Managing Partner at Command Group. “We’ve sought out and brought in the talent and expertise needed to immediately tap into the startup scene in central Texas as a first step, but we plan to venture into growth and turnaround organizations next as a natural evolution of the well-rounded services we have to offer,” according to Gisele LeBaron, Managing Partner.

“In working with dozens of Founders and Entrepreneurs over the years, we have overwhelmingly found that the lack of a knowledge base and resource pool when it comes to putting in operational infrastructures to support rapid and high volume growth for their organizations is more than an inconvenience and a distraction. It is an impediment to their ability to remain nimble and a risk for their investors, as critical components are being missed or skipped over inadvertently, causing everything from headaches to legal issues to compliance risk,” said Julie Rachui, Managing Director. Command Group now has the ability to offer Investors and Entrepreneurs alike the assurance that their operational components are being built and maintained in a judicious manner. “The obvious upside for our client base is that we are able to do this in an efficient and cost-effective manner, allowing them to have expert level insight at a fraction of the cost of a full-time hire. The other aspects that investors are keen on in recommending us to their portfolio of companies is that we take on the tactical and strategic aspects of the business operations, leaving the entrepreneurs to focus solely on product and revenue generation activities, which is what should clearly be their priority.”

About CGR [Command Group]

Command Group delivers advisory and search services to provide management teams with the talent and business operations best practices and systems in order to have the ability to devote their time and attention solely to the development of their product and revenue generating activities. CGR has the ability to provide teams of resources to our clients at blended rates on an as-needed basis, which in turn affords CGR clients with expert-level skill sets and senior-level experience in these areas at a fraction of what a single resource at that level would cost. CGR specializes in both the strategic and tactical aspects of all of the Business Operations areas of discipline to include: HR, Recruiting, Finance/Accounting, Facilities, Training, IT and Client Success. The company also has a full-service Professional and Executive search division as well as Interim Talent solutions.
